Your future, your way!

An apprenticeship or traineeship can be an exciting career pathway choice! There are literally hundreds of career paths to choose from including construction, business, agriculture, fashion, design, animal care - and many more!

The team at BUSY At Work can help you to embark on a career path that's right for you, helping you to assess your interests, current skills and aspirations - we'll find the career direction that you're most passionate about.

With on-the-job training, you can earn while you learn and gain a qualification on completion. There is also potential financial support and wage incentives to assist you (eligibility criteria applies).

So, what are you waiting for? Create your future, your way!

Gain a competitive edge and learn while you earn

With an apprenticeship or traineeship you will:

Get practical hands-on training in an industry of your choice

Create a stepping stone opportunity to higher education

Gain a nationally-recognised qualification

Get paid to work, while learning relevant on-the-job skills

Have the opportunity to fast-track your training

Get access to ongoing support services and mentoring

“

My favourite part of the job is seeing a concept sketch turn into a finished product. Without support from BUSY At Work, I wouldn't have had this opportunity.”

Helpful Information

WAGES FOR AN APPRENTICE OR TRAINEE

- An employee can only be paid apprentice/ trainee pay rates if they have a formal training contract in place with their employer.
- Pay rates vary depending on the industry and increase at different periods or skill levels during your apprenticeship period.
- Modern Awards establish the minimum conditions for employers across Australia.
- Further information on wages can be found at www.fairwork.gov.au/pay

IF YOU'RE EXPERIENCING PROBLEMS

- If you feel you are not receiving the appropriate support for your training, are experiencing harassment or bullying in the workplace or have any other issues, inform your supervisor/ manager immediately.
- You can also contact BUSY At Work for advice and support.
- As well, you can speak to your training provider or contact the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training (DESBT) on 1800 210 210.
- Most workers, including apprentices and trainees, are covered by national anti-bullying laws. More information regarding this act can be found at www.fwc.gov.au or you can contact the Fair Work Commission on 1300 799 675

YOUR HEALTH & SAFETY IN THE WORKPLACE

- While employed, you must follow all health and safety instructions given to you by your employer.
- By law, your employer should provide a safe workplace for all workers, free from verbal, physical, sexual and racial abuse.
- Your employer is obligated by law to provide a safe workplace, ensuring you are free from harm, including physically and mentally.
- More information can be found at www.safeworkaustralia.gov.au

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: EXPLAIN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN AN APPRENTICESHIP AND A TRAINEESHIP?

A: An apprenticeship usually relates to a trade, eg electrician, hairdresser, chef, plumber or carpenter. A traineeship generally relates to industries that don't need a trade certificate, eg business, retail, hospitality and more.

Q: HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE?

A: Full time apprenticeships will take between 36 to 48 months, depending on the apprentice and how quickly they complete the competencies. An apprentice will undertake qualifications from Cert Level III to Level VI. Full time traineeships will take between 12 and 24 months, undertaking qualifications from Cert Level II to Level VI. Recognition of prior learning, on the job learning and formal or informal experience can all contribute towards competency and completion of the qualification.

Q: IS THERE A PROBATIONARY PERIOD?

A: Yes, usually the probationary period for a full-time apprenticeship is 90 days while a traineeship is 30-60 days.

Q: IS THERE ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA TO BECOME AN APPRENTICE OR TRAINEE?

A: Apprenticeships or traineeships are available to anyone of working age who are Australian Citizens or Permanent Residents, a NZ Passport holder or the holder of a visa type which allows you to work in Australia. You don't need a secondary school certificate or other qualification to be able to do an apprenticeship or traineeship.

You can do an apprenticeship or traineeship if you're a school leaver, re-entering the workforce or as an adult worker simply wishing to change careers or gain new skills. You can even begin your apprenticeship or traineeship while you're still at school finishing Years 11 and 12. You will need to be an Australian citizen or hold a New Zealand passport or a visa that allows you to engage in work in Australia.

Q: DO I NEED TO BE EMPLOYED FULL TIME?

As an apprentice or trainee you can combine time at work with training and can be either employed as full-time, part-time (minimum of 15 hours per week) or school-based (you will need to work a minimum of 50 days per year, usually one day per week). You must be employed on a permanent basis, not casual.

Q: WHAT INCENTIVES ARE AVAILABLE?

There are a number of incentives you may be eligible for including Trade Support Loans, Living Away from Home Allowances and Centrelink allowances under Youth Allowance, Austudy and Abstudy. Contact BUSY At Work on 13 28 79 or more information can be found at www.australianapprenticeships.gov.au

Depending on your circumstances, you may also be eligible for other government incentives or support services when commencing your apprenticeship or traineeship.

Q: HOW DO I FIND AN APPRENTICESHIP?

There are hundreds of employers seeking apprentices or trainees for their workplace and in a wide range of industries. You can approach employers directly, talk to BUSY At Work who can assist or you can find opportunities online by visiting www.apprenticeshipcentral.com.au

I finally get the chance to work in a job I know I will be very happy with! The BUSY staff have really looked after me.
