Ready today for tomorrow

Become a leader in socially-accountable medicine, graduating as a highly regarded, work-ready health professional. JCU's Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery is the only six-year undergraduate medical course offered in Northern Australia.

While studying medicine and surgery at JCU, you will be immersed in both theoretical and practical learning. Through in-class study and hands-on placement work, you will develop a strong foundation on which you can build a career upon.

You will be equipped with the skills to work in a range of diverse settings from regional, rural, remote, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and beyond. Graduates of the Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery are eligible to register to work in a one-year internship in Australia or New Zealand. Completion of your internship can lead you to further training in a chosen specialisation.

“I chose to study medicine at JCU, because it has the best reputation for producing work-ready graduates and it has a strong focus on rural and remote health, which is the primary reason why I wanted to study medicine. What also sets JCU apart from a lot of other medical schools is that it has multiple rural placement experiences spread across the six years. It enables you to obtain all of your training, from start to finish, outside major metropolitan areas. I would recommend the JCU experience hands down. If you want to be a rural doctor, the university definitely puts you in the best position to take full advantage of all the training opportunities that you could possibly obtain to get there.”

Dr Tom Currie

BACHELOR OF MEDICINE, BACHELOR SURGERY GRADUATE

“With a student-centred approach, a strong foundation in basic sciences, early and extensive clinical training, and a focus on the needs of rural, remote and underserved communities, the JCU Medicine program is creating a health workforce for our region. I feel truly privileged to be playing a part in developing the next generation of socially-accountable junior doctors, ready to make a real impact and lead positive change in health care for the communities of tropical Australia and beyond.”
